TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

From a Gentleman in JAPAN
Tottori, Japan, Sept. 11, 1895.
Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

United Kingdom

London, 2nd—The Press condemns the vote of the American Senate recognizing the Cuban insurgenss as belligerents, as it considers such a resolution to be inopportune. It is also pointed out that even were the United States Government to act on the vote, its practical advantage for the insurgents would be much less that usually supposed and that Spain would immediately send fresh reinforcements of troops to Cuba.

Mr. Goschen, the first Lord of the Admiralty has asked for fresh credits to increase the naval strength of the country both by vessels and men.

There is absolutely no foundation for the rumour concerning the cession of Zeilah to Italy in exchange for Kassala.

France

Paris, 2nd—The principal papers censure the motion voted by the United States in regard to the belligerency of Cuba.

Bordeaux, 2nd — The passengers on board the steamer Chili landed here today after 48 hours quarantine. There was one case of yellow fever on board.

President Faure arrived at Toulon today, and was enthnsiastically received.

The port and all the vessels in it are decked with flags. The President and Minister of War reviewed the fleet in the afternoon.

Count Tornielli Brusati the Italian Minister visited to-day M. Berthelot the Minister for Foreign Affairs with whom he conversed for half an hour in the usual cordial manner. During the interview, the Count stated that the Italian Government was satisfied that France had never sold arms to the Negus Menelik.

President Faure granted to-day in Toulon an audience to the Bsazilian Consul in Marseilles Senhor Ferraz Rego, who expressed to M. Faure in the name of his country the best wishes for the happiness and prosperity of France. The President replied in identical terms.

The Brazilian Minister Piza Almaida has laid before M. Berthelot the bases for a definite arrangement of the Guiana frontier question.

Germany

Berlin, 2ad—Prince Bismark has expressed the opinion that the foreign policy which the United States has recently adopted is perilous in the extreme for that republic.

The debate on the proposed tax on sugar was continued to-day in the Reichstag. The Secretary of the Treasury, Count Posadowsky maintained that it was necessary to increase the premium now paid to exporters of sugar.

It is difficult to foreseee what will be the final result.

Spain

Madrid, 2nd—The excitement and indignation against the United States continues "en crescendo." Troops are protecting the American Consulate in Barcelona. Several disturbers collected all the American flags they could lay hands on and destroyed them, after having trailed them in the dust. The excitement here in the city is not so great.

There is feverish activity in the War Department owing to the state of relations with the United States. Premier del Castillo has telegraphed to General Weyler that the Queen Regent and the Government have complete confidence in his ability to stamp out the revolution. Marshal Martinez Campos says there will be no war with the United States, as Prisident Cleveland will not recognize the Cubans as belligerents.

The Imparcial publishes a very violent article against the United States, and says that, in case of war, all the merchant vessels of that country must be treated as pirates.

The Press without exception continues to publish violent articles against the American Congress, accussing the members of having been bought by the insurgents to declare their belligerency.

The Consulates and Legations of the United States are being carefully guarded from the fury of the mob.

Italy

Rome, 2nd—The Radicals here and in other cities are organising numerous popular meetings to protest against the policy of the Government with regard to the African campaign.

Premier Crispi is greatly irritated at the agitation against the Government, and considers it anti-patriotic at the present movement. The official papers severely blame the Opposition Deputies for inciting the people to revolution.

United States.

Washington, 2nd—The news received here from Spain is causing a great deal of comment. It is asserted that the people of Barcelona are the only responsible parties for the disagreeable incidents which occurred there. Senator Sherman has declared that nothing serious will happen on this account, because both Governments are two wise to rush into the arms of a conflict. Senator Hicks expects that Spain will offer an apology for the recent occurrences.

With very few exceptions, all the newspapers of the Union urge President Cleveland to recognize the Cuban patriots as belligerents.

New York, 2nd—An official telegram was received to-day from Mr. Taylor the American Minister in Madrid stating that the Spanish Government had expressed its regret, at the recent acts of hostility perpetrated by the Barcelona mob. The Duke of Tetuan, it is added, assured Mr. Taylor that every precaution had been taken to prevent any recurrence of the disgraceful scenes recently exacted.

It is believed that the American Government will rest satisfiéd by these explanations.

The House of Representatives has voted the Cuban belligerency resolution by 263 votes to 16.

Some of the speeches were very violent against Spain and were condemned by subsequent speakers as unworthy of a great country.

The Senate voted to-day a Bill increasing by 1000 men the strength of the crews of the fleet.

Brazil

Rio, 29th—The 48 illuminated buoys for the Southern Coast, and the steamer to carry the gas for them have cost £116,000 stg.

Nobody here believes that there have been fatal cases of yellow fever in Buenos Aires; they are thought to be pure inventions, as a pretext for quarantine on vessels from Brazil.

In Port Alegre, Dr. Terra got the cold shoulder from Governor Castilhos in his revolutionary proposals.

The crew of the Italian cruiser Lombardia are all to be landed, so that she may be disinfected; even her guns are to be taken out.

Fifty fresh cases and 30 deaths from yellow fever in the last 24 hours.

Exchange on London 8¾.

Chile

Valparaiso, 2nd—The Comercio of Lima refers in a leader to the definite instructions given a month ago to Dr. Quirno Costa to demand from the Chilian Government an explicit answer as to whether it means to recognize the peaks of the Andes as the boundary line or not, as the Argentine Government is not inclined for any further discussion on the point. If the Chilian Government supports Barros Arana, the Argentine Government will declare the negotiations at an end, will recall its Commissioner, and take whatever steps it may think best to protect its rights on the frontier. The Comercio adds that when the cruiser Buenos Aires and Garibaldi arrive, an ultimatum will be sent to Chile.

The rumour still prevails here that the question with Argentina is on the eve of a satisfactory settlement.

Exchange on London 17⅛.

(Special Service of the Diario.)

United Kingdom

Deptford, 2nd—The price of live Argentine steers has fallen two-pence per stone. 462 were sold to-day.

There were 3,724 Argentine sheep sold at between 45 and 48 pence per stone of 8 pounds.

France

Douai, 2nd—Tremblie's trial finished yesterday at 5.30 p.m. The State Prosecutor wound up addressing the prisoner, telling him that the crime he had committed was a most brutal and cowardly one, and added that nothing remained for him but the scaffold. The prisoner's counsel commenced his defence at 11 a.m. He began by reading a letter from a Custom House employee stating ehat Forbos arrived at Buenos Aires in the compauy of two women. He next censured the authorities for letting Boitel free. M. Hattu tried to prove that Tremblie was dining with Courtade whilst Farbos's mangled remains were being scattered through the city of Buenos Aires, and wound up by severely criticising the conduct of the Buenos Aires police authorities. The judge passed sentence of death at 5.20. The only words Tremblie uttered were: "I am innocent."

Paris, 2nd—The French press in general supports Spain in the war in Cuba. Very few organs approve of the U. S. Senate motion.

United States

New York, 2nd.—A telegram from Washington states that the Cabinet Ministers met last night at the residence of Mr. Olney. The State Secretary advised his colleagues of the resolution to send the Spanish Government a telegram telling it that the United States Government disapproves of the motion passed by the Senate.

Washington, 2nd—The Spanish Minister has received a telegram from the Minister of Foreign Affairs announcing that the Spanish Government will do all in its power to protect the United States Consulates in Spain, also all North American citizens.

The Spanish Legation here insists in denying the news that the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs had expresed his regret at the insult offered to the United States Consulate in Barcelona, the windows of which were smashed by stones. The Spanish authorities took all the necessary precautions to prevent a repetition of the occurrence, but nothing more.

Spain

Madrid, 2nd.—Messrs. Castelar, Salmeron and Silvela have agreed to do all in their power to prevent any attempt to violate Spain's rights over Cuba. Mr. Py y Margall is the only leader who approves of the conduct of the United States Senate. This gentleman opines that Spain should grant Cuba Home Rule, and thus put an end to such a ruinous war.

All access to the United States Consulate is closely guarded by police.

The Consulate Buildings in Barcelona and Cadiz were attacked and stoned by the mob.

There is great activity going on in the war arsenal and naval ship-yards. The Minister of Marine has ordered six men-of-war to sail for Havannah immediately.

Telegrams from Havannah state that the town is perfectly tranquil. Not a single hostile manifestation against the United States has occurred.

FOND MEMORY.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder. We know of no other country in the world that enchains the affection of the foreigner more than the Plate. We never yet knew a countryman who had lived long out here, and retired, who did not preserve a sort of affectionate remembrance of the days, no matter how hard and troubled, he passed in Buenos Aires; and the sound of a Spanish word such as "caramba" or "caráspita" in a street in London or Dublin touches a chord that vibrates through the whole system, opening memory's cells, recalling perhaps the same expression heard thirty years ago at the corner of Calle San Martin. The difference between a fellow countryman who never stirred out of his native land and one who has spent years in Buenos Aires is so remarkable that we feel we must attribute the great change in character, temper and disposition to something far higher than climate, food, or customs.

We are led to these remarks from the reading of a beautiful letter we received by the mail from an old River Plate friend now resident in London who is at the top of the wheel there, mixing with merchant princes and millionaires, plunged in the very vortex of trade, finance and politics, yet spite of all the attractions of splendid London life, there are moments when his heart yearns for dear old B. Aires, and nothing can obliterate the memory of old friends and the happy days he passed out here. Take the letter dear readers, and judge for yourselves. Our valued correspondent says :—

"Every STANDARD I receive seems to contain the death of some old friends. The other day it was

Mrs. Bankier—and then

Mr. Russell—and now comes my good friend

Dr. Aristóbulo del Valle

I had a great admiration for him and knew him better than most Englishmen. We were brought together in the negotiation for the purchase of the Western R. R. and I shall never forget the great skill and tact that he displayed at that time. I was at his house the morning of the Revolution (1890) but found that my friend had laid down the pen for the sword.

Well Buenos Aires is poorer to-day in legal ability without,

Del Valle,
Lucio Lopez and
Hugo Bunge.

So in Commerce without

Juan Drysdale,
Harry Watson and Eduardo Madero.

and in Finance without

José de Carabassa,
Juan Todd,

and in Medicine without

Pirovano.

I follow the course of events in the Argentine very closely and am delighted to see the country making such rapid progress. In the City a most hopeful feeling prevails as to your future, and if you can only avoid complications with Chile, we may see another Argentine Boom ere long. During the past four months gold to the value of £1,500,000 has been shipped to the Plate from London and New York alone, so if you add the shipments from France and some I believe from Chile, you have a very tidy sum to the good, and doubtless its influence will be felt in the gold premium before long."

We have received from another old friend in Liverpool a welcome letter from which we make the following extract :—

"What a fine season you are having! I hear that the Gibsons never had such a clip, though they are crossers for 60½ years standing and breeders 70½ years. They topped the market here with their wools this season at the public auctions of all Argentine growers with 9½, though others in the Plate ran them very close, and taking the average price, including lambs, locks and bellies; the Gibsons topped Montevideo also. As for weight of fleece the old "Ajó" estancia gave an average grown fleece excluding hoggets and lambs, but including the proportion of bellies and locks, of 8.04 lbs. which for a place of they tell me 43 puestos, and taking them all in all, I doubt if it has ever been equalled. All the 43 puestos I hear are Lincoln. I hope your own estancias are as flourishing."

Our London correspondent also writes to us "sub rosa" from the Nat. Liberal Club, congratulating us all on the improved state of things in Buenos Ayres. He says things in London are at sixes and sevens, and that he wishes he was out at the Tigre or Mar del Plata, that he is not himself at all, and favours us with the following beautiful lines ;

Oh! I'm not myself at all
STANDARD dear—STANDARD dear:
My appetite's so small,
I once could pick a goose.
But my buttons is no use
Faith my tightest coat is loose.
STANDARD dear.

Oh! my shadow on the wall
STANDARD dear—STANDARD dear
Isn't like myself at all,
For I've got so very thin
Myself says "t isn't him,"
But that purty girl so slim,
STANDARD dear.

ARGENTINE TRADE FIGURES.

VOLUME OF EXPORTS.

A THREE YEARS' RETROSPECT.

In the confusion caused by the many ineffectual attempts of private parties to supply the public with approximate figures of the trade of the country, it is consoling to see that Dr. Latzina, the Chief of the National Statistical Department, came forward and, contrary to a time-honoured system of procrastination, favoured the market wiih the exact figures for 1895; this puts an end to the statistical chaos going on in the columns of some of our leading colleagues, who in their calculations have struck very wide of the mark.

We have taken the trouble to compile the figures of export for the last three years, that the reader may gauge in the comparison the exact increase in the country's wonderful production, both as regards quantity and value. We shall begin with the volume of exports and classify same on the same lines as the National Statistical Office.

Of all the items in the lengthy list of Argentine exports none shows such marvellous growth as the export of live-stock, viz :—

	1893	1894	1895
	No.	No.	No.
Asses	8,835	9,423	7,409
Horses	5,275	12,392	14,070
Goats	—	—	3
Pigs	7,296	7,797	5,572
Sheep	17,167	122,218	420,946
Mules	12,842	14,426	21,925
Horned cattle	201,645	220,490	408,126

These figures speak for themselves. In a second chapter we shall deal more in detail with these shipments of animals when we analyse the value of exports.

The exports off Pastoral Products compare as follows:—

Thus the raw pastoral produce exported in 1895 exceeded half a million tons. say 50% more than in 1893—a formidable increase. Yet this is but a fraction of the extraordinary growth in agricultural exports. viz:—

Thus the agricultural exports of 1895 are nearly double those of 1893 in volume. In round figures the agricultural and pastoral exports of this country reached a volume of three million tons, not including those items that are classed by numbers, such as live-stock, logs of handubay, game and forest products, etc.

In our next we shall continue this interesting comparison on the basis of values. We may add that the figures of 1895 are not complete, as the returns of some custom houses have not been received, but they are official and approximative.

LONDON LETTER.

LORD SALISBURY ON IRELAND AND THE TRANSVAAL.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 1st.

"Lord Salisbury's speech at the banquet of the Nonconformist Liberal Unionist Association is the most amazing utterance that ever came from the lips of the governor of a great empire at a crisis of its fortunes."

Thus saith the Daily Chronicle, and it is in the main right. Insolent, cynical-insulting, supercilious, frivolous, playing, with-fire, etc., are among the epithets applied to the speech by your contemporary, which is, by the way, an organ of non-conformity. Evidently not of the Liberal Unionist branch.

There is one thing, and it was nearest to Lord Salisbury's post prandially warmed heart—upon which the prime minister was right. He trounced Mr. John Morley for saying that in the dispatch to Mr. Olney he had not agreed to the Monroe doctrine. Mr. Morley's words seemed to favour this interpretation. But obviously what he meant was what everyone means, the prime minister's dispatch—or rather the foreign office dispatch—was rigidly correct, but like Lord Salisbury's speech last night at the Hotel Metropole, the manner of it was unhappy. Lord Salisbury was also rigidly correct in telling the Nonconformist mind that Great Britain by the Cyprus convention was not bound to insure good government in the Turkish Empire. We were only bound to defend Turkey from Russian invasion, on condition that good government was instituted, and the Cyprus convention is worth nothing except that it might be construed as a bar to Russia entering Armenia to save the Christian population.

Beyond these two points Lord Salisbury's speech was as frivolous and insulting and impolitic as the Chronicle makes it, or as an after-dinner speech could be. It insulted the Irish majority by comparing the Uitlanders in Johannesburg to the Ulster population in Ireland under Home Rule. There were two millions of loyalists in Ulster, said Lord Salisbury, and in the rest of Ireland three millions of "the other sort." The comparison was not only frivolous and impolitic, but absurd, because in the Transvaal the Uitlanders are very much in the majority. What Lord Salisbury wished openly to inculcate was the failure of Home Rule in the Transvaal, and a Home Rule granted by Mr. Gladstone. Nominally under the suzerainty of Great Britain, Ireland, said Lord Salisbury would do as the Transvaal did—on the first occurrence of friction with the Imperial power; the majority representing the Government and "having the rifles", would rebel and appeal to foreign powers. Was ever there such a muddle? I have not time to re-examine Lord Salisbury's bumps, but he must be deficient in comparison. Besides if it means anything, his rigmarole must be read in this wise—President Kruger is a rebel who has appealed to foreign powers for help against his suzerain. The capitalist crew in Johannesburg are like the Protestant martyrs of Ulster who he absolutely says, might in case of persecution be "supported by "Another" Jameson from Scotland!! Hence in Lord Salisbury's opinion the real Jameson is a hero, and the pusillanimous crew in Johannesburg are martyrs. And all this when the Secretary of State for the Colonies, naturally with Lord Salisbury's sanction, is sending a commissioner to Johannesburg to get at the exact truth in regard to the Johannesburg revolt and the Jameson raid, and the Attorney General in London is supposed to be preparing a serious and perhaps criminal indictment against Cecil Rhodes and Jameson. What can any serious man think of such nonsense? Surely the most charitable conclusion is that the Hotel Metropole port was older and finer than the premier's own and celebrated tap at Hatfield. Mr. Cook, perhaps prompted by Mr. Stead or some nonconformist, spook is indignant, and in the Daily News this morning rates Lord Salisbury soundly. However, none of us can agree, for the Daily News is most violent on the Armenian question, in regard to which Lord Salisbury is at least technically correct. The whole state of affairs is painful. It is heartily to be wished that both Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain would quietly conduct their business in their respective departments and make no speeches. Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Birmingham is badly received in Russia, and when Lord Salisbury glories as he did last night in England "being issolated," it sounds like a frivolous challenge to the world.

There is nothing to say about general matters, and besides there is another batch of mails about to leave. By then the body of Prince Henry of Battenburg will have arrived in the Iolante. Mr. Cecil Rhodes is due the same day, the 4th. There was a crowd of interviewers waiting for him at Madeira, but he refused to make any statements.

You will have heard of the deaths of Lord Leighton—really Sir Frederick—and of Sir Joseph Barnby, principal of the Guildhall school of music, and of Mr. Alexander McMillan the publisher.

THE TREMBLIE TRIAL.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

ABLE DEFENCE.

The telegrams from Douai announce that Tremblie has been condemned to death for the murder of Farbos. M. Hattu defended his client in the most brilliant manner, although he was perfectly aware that he would not be able to convince the jury of the prisoner's innocence. M. Hattu began the defence by stating that the Buenos Aires police did not even know what the remains of Farbos's body were wrapped in—whether it was paper, cloth, linen or sack. The whole string of evidence, he said, was one series of mis-statements and contradictions from beginning to end. He asked for better proofs, warning the jury that it was impossible for them to sentence a man to death on mere suppositions. He protested against the statement that Tremblie was a bad character as his client had always been a sober hardworking young fellow. M. Hattu made special mention of the fact that Tremblie's landlady never heard the least sound coming from her lodger's room. How then was it possible for a man to commit murder by cutting a body to pieces and yet never make the least noise. There were people in the apartment next to that occupied by Tremblie, and this he said made the prisoner's innocence all the clearer.

M. Hattu next mentioned the fact that a doctor from Buenos Aires stated that Farbos was dismembered in a most scientific manner, showing that the murderer was in the habit of handling a surgeon's knife. Absurd! said M. Hattu, who ever mistook my client for a medical student or a butcher? He refuted the statement that Farbos was an honest man, declaring that the dead man had been a smuggler, and had excercised his calling for a considerable time before meeting his death. After showing that his client had been marked out as the murderer of Farbos simply because the police were incapable of capturing the real assassin, M. Hattu cautioned the jury not to condemn an innocent man on false evidence, thus adding one more name to the list of those sent into eternity for a crime they never committed. This finished the defence, and a few minutes later the jury retired to deliberate. Their absence lasted 14 minutes. Excitement reached an intense pitch as they gave their verdict of "Guilty," M. Vidert then ordered the prisoner to stand up, and in a few solemn words condemned Tremblie to death. The prisoner received his sentence with the greatest calmness, but completely broke down when he turned to thank his counsel. Several hisses were heard in the Court which the judge ordered to be immediately cleared. The nature of the sentence spread through the city like wild fire and was satisfactorily received by all.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Recent cables announce the fact that an effort is being made in European diplomatic circles to compel England to evacuate Egypt. Fourteen years ago, in view of the state of anarchy then existing in the land of the Nile, an arrangement was made for the joint occupation of Egypt by England and France. At the last moment the latter withdrew from the compact, leaving England to settle the question single-handed. Such being the case, it is rather mean of France to oppose England in carrying out the scheme which they helped to originate. However, honour and integrity are very nearly unknown quantities in modern European diplomacy—unless there is something tangible to be gained by the exercise of these virtues.

At the present moment there is small probability of the British Lion retiring from Egypt. The irrepressible Turk has caused a thrill of horror to vibrate throughout the civilised world, by the enormities which his brigand soldiery have been committing in Armenia. It is indeed one of the anomalies of the age, that such a barbarous form of administration is tolerated side by side with the civilisation of the nineteenth century. This is one of the pleasures we owe to the dog in the manger policy of European diplomatists. The sick man must linger on because the executors of his will cannot agree amongst themselves. The almost certain solution of this Gordian knot will be the re-establishment of the Greek Empire. There is no other just or pacific solution of the difficulty. A large portion of the population of Turkey are either Greeks or of Greek descent. Armenia will sooner or later be annexed by Russia. And the sooner that happy consummation takes place the better for civilization. The settlement of the Holy-land presents a much more difficult problem. Numbers of Jews are returning to their ancient country to settle on the land of their ancestors. The enormous influence wielded by Jewish capitalists all the world over is one of those forces which we cannot estimate. And in the question of Palestine it is hard to say what action they will take. The railway between Jappa and Jerusalem, and the puff of the locomotive seem to indicate the approach of a new era. As far as England is concerned, the only way the thing can practically affect her is the possibility of the Suez Canal being blocked in time of war. The occupation of Egypt is a guarantee against the highway being closed. But we think if our civilization is anything more than a veneer that the most rational solution of all this humbug is for an International Congress to agree to respect the neutrality or right of commerce. And that all commercial centres and highways should be strictly "tabooed" for all the fleets and armies of the world. If nations must punch each other's heads occasionally by way of diversion, and get their hired bravoes to make mince-meat of each other, according to all the laws of reason and law there should be a ring. We don't see any valid reason why we should forego even for a day the luxury of our coffee from Mocha or a new bonnet from Paris, because of these after-dinner eccentricities of an age of barbarism. The prospects of a close alliance between Russia, France and Abyssinia, will seriously affect the safety of the Red Sea route for England. Any way, this is not a question which can concern her to such a great extent very much longer. English rule cannot last for ever in India. In the East Indies we are aliens and simply represent the Governing element. There is no practical colonisation. The races do not assimilate, England is doing a great work there, caste prejudices are being broken down and the sundry elements of the population are gradually being harmonised. Commerce and agriculture are being fostered in every possible way. Intelligent natives have assured the writer that they fully appreciate all this. But they say "English rule is too expensive for us." When their barriers of caste and religion are eliminated we shall see a united India one of the leading nations in the world.

COACHING EXPERIENCE IN THE PAMPA CENTRAL.

We have often read of the old coaching days of yore, and under the influence of a happy description by a good author, our imagination has often carried us back to the days of going up to London cramped up among luggage and fat old ladies in crinoline, in a mail coach, the terror of geese and ducks by the way side, and the mothers of the little children that would insist upon running the risk of being driven over as long as they could have a peep at the important-looking driver handling his horses, and hear the long horn being blown, the blast of which was the signal for the gossipers to meet at the different stages, and over their grog to discuss the latest news of home and abroad.

I was not so much of a "Gringo" as to expect to see anything of the kind in the Pampa Central. Perhaps my experience of ten years ago in the "galera" from Bahia Blanca to Patagones was sufficient guide to me. We were many in number at the time, and had just come into the country, and that drive is one of my first impressions. I was young then, and novelty was everything, once on the camp my ambition was to be as much like an Indian or a gaucho as possible! How jolly it was when the "galera" got stuck in the "salitral" and we had to walk out up to our knees in mud and slush. We thought ourselves outlaws and cutthroats almost, when standing among innocent shepherds in the "pulperias" that happened to turn up once or twice a day, with their caged counters, and considered the "pulpero" to hold us in awe, and would not for anything venture to come out among us from behind his protection. We slept upon sheepskins among numerous jolly jumpers and handy creepers and flattered ourselves on it. There was one of our number, however, who was more thoughtful than the rest in having brought a hammock with him, which he managed to fix up by means of two pins which he screwed into the walls. One night, I happened to be awake (as usual) contesting the possession of my own flesh and blood with the arrogant creatures already referred to, when I heard on a sudden a thud and a groan, and lighting a match, I found my companion of the hammock prostrate on the ground; one of the patent pins, guaranteed to hold its grip in all building materials in any of the five continents, had lost its hold. My companion did not sleep in the hammock after that, he came to the conclusion that the inventor of the patent pin had overlooked the building material of S. American hotels. All along the journey we had dined on "asado" and "mate" or some abominable tea with hard biscuits. Having reached the town of Mercedes on the Colorado, we felt inclined for some European luxuries and called for several things which were not to be got. Some one mentioned Oysters, and the "mozo," being a Frenchman I suppose, brought us "potted frog," which was indigestible, and beyond that was the means of causing several consecutive meals to be indigestible also.

After ten years one would expect things to have advanced, and with this sentiment I started for Hucal to take a "galera" from there to Choele-Choel on the Rio Negro. The combination for this journey is the 8.30 p.m. train from Plaza Constitucion which reaches Bahia Blanca next day. The guard brings you into contact with the representative of the "galera" Company, who asks you your destination and how much luggage you have got. You hand him your certificate, which he puts into his pocket without more ado, while you stare at him and feel rather confounded. Don't be anxious, you have not fallen into bad hands. Leave him alone, everything is all right, you will find your luggage in the station of the Bahia Blanca and North Western Railway Station on Monday morning at 6, and you will book yourself to Hucal, while the representative of the Galera Company charges a moderate fee for the freight of the luggage from one station to the other. This representative is called a mayoral, I believe, and he leaves you here in charge of another mayoral with silvered "tirador" and coloured shirt. This last mayoral introduces us to another mayoral still before reaching Hucal, until at last one does not know who is who and which is which. Henceforth we consider the last mayoral as "The Mayoral" of the galera with whom we have to deal with, and bid "good-bye" to first two with their contented looks and portly bearing.

Hucal is generally called "Ramon Blanco," or rather Ramon Blanco is sometimes called Hucal. Why it is not always called so I do not know. I suppose that Mr. Ramon Blanco is an important gentleman in the district, and "Hucal" is only the aboriginal name. Anyway similar cases do occur too often, and it is time that this uncivilized spirit of selfishness of a thousand years ago were now broken in, and that all aboriginal names of places, at least, be preserved.

After getting my luggage safely to the hotel, which was the only house in the place, except the railway station and the establishment of Mr. Ramon Blanco about three squares off—a fine, square, red brick building.—I went to have a look around. There were about seven hundred soldiers encamped close by, and I went among them. It had been raining and they were without tents, but they were very expert in raising temporary protection against the incelment weather. They had been most unfortunate in the choice of camping ground, if they had any choice at all. The ground where they were was inclined to be flooded, in consequence of which there was a great deal of mud about. Anybody except these soldiers would have been most downhearted. There were about a hundred women among them also. I was sorry for them. I came across a young officer who made a very fair attempt, indeed, to shelter himself, and he scorned the idea of his shunning the casualties of a soldier's life by skulking away among the trucks and empty railway carriages. No, he met fate as it came. I admired him, and thought the government rather fortunate in having such doughty officers. I found out later on that he was "en preso" for the time being.

Finding out that there were more passengers for the "Galera" than it would be able to take, my next step was to find out means to put myself in favour of the "Mayoral". There is one very effective way to do that, which I had to 'expediate' to, and very soon my luggage was safely inside. I also secured a comfortable bed with clean white sheets, which did not put me in mind of sheepskins, and I slept well until three or four in the morning, when we were to start, and after some abominable coffee and biscuits, took our seats. We sat upon luggage, leaned upon luggage, and the top of the coach was nearly caved in with the weight of luggage outside, that belonged to a tall lady-like officer, who had resorted to the same expedient as myself to get all his luggage on board. It is against my principles, though, to stoop to this custom of bribing, and I am never in the habit, personally, of playing such mean tricks. When occasions call for such I get them done by proxy. In this case an influential friend of mine saw the matter through.

YELLOW FEVER.

No fresh cases of yellow fever have occurred in Belgrano since Saturday, and we may say that all those attacked with the epidemic are rapidly recovering, thanks to the prompt and energetic measures taken by the Sanitary authorities.

The following is a list of the cases:—

First case—Ema Bendt, French aged 13, was taken ill on the 25th of February. Convalescent.

Second case—Federico Bendt, Swiss aged 56, widower, mechanic by profession. Living in Calle 1a. N° 1541. Bendt was siezed with yellow fever on the 1st of February, but is now convalescent.

Third and Fourth cases—Maria Trolla de Aymone, Italian 41 years of age, married, living in Calle 1a. N° 1579. She was taken ill on February 7th, and died on the 18th of the same month.

Her husband was also attacked, but has now quite recovered.

Fifth case—Santiago Saccone, Italian 44 years of age, married. Saccone was attacked on the 23rd of February, and died on the 27th of the same month.

Sixth case—Mariana S. de Saccone, wife of Santiago Saccone, French Nationality aged 22. She got ill on the 23rd of February, but is now convalescent.

Seventh case—Juana Rivolini di Ridilla, Italian widow aged 60, lived in Calle 1a. N° 1571. Died on the 1st of March.

Eighth case—Santiago Quatrognocci, Italian, married, aged 46; lived in Calle 1a N° 1557. Died on the 28th of February.

Ninth case—Dominga Chanfrini de Quatrognocci, Italian, aged 37, married. She was attacked by yellow fever on the 28th of last month.

The infected houses and every piece of furniture and stick of clothing in them have been most thoroughly disenfected.

PRESENTATION TO THE REV. GEO. S. HALL, B. A., LATE OF QUILMES.

For the information of the numerous friends of the Rev. Geo. S. Hall in this country, we cut the following from a Barbados paper dated 24th Dec. last:—

"This morning, at St. Michael's Cathedral, a deputation of the Bible Class inaugurated by the Rev. Geo. S. Hall waited on the reverend gentleman and presented him with a piece of plate as a Christmas gift, accompanied by an address, which was read, on behalf of the members of the class, by Mr. James A. Ford.

The reverend gentleman seemed very much affected; and, in the course of his reply, said that the gift in itself was not so valued to him as was the love which he believed existed between the members of the class and himself, and that it was simply due to their loyalty whether much good could be done or not. In conclusion, he heartily thanked the members, whereupon the deputation withdrew.

The following is the address with the signatures of those who formed the deputation:—

"To the Rev. Geo. S. Hall, B.A.

"Rev. and dear Sir,

"We, the undersigned members of your Bible Class, recognising the interest displayed by you in our spirituul welfare, and your unswerving efforts to promote the Christian religion amongst us, as well as to all classes of the community, have much pleasure in approaching you at this season of the year and presenting you with a small piece of plate (in testimony of the deep esteem and sincere friendship which we hold towards you) as a Christmas gift.

In doing so we have to wish both yourself and Mrs. Hall a happy Christmas, and know full well that we but echo the wish of many when we hope that you may long be spared to spend many another Christmas here amongst us.

"We are, dear Sir,

"Yours faithfully

(Then follow 39 signatures.)

It will, no doubt, be as gratifying to Mr. Hall's many friends here, as it must be to himself, to know that he has the love and sympathy of his parishioners to support him in his new sphere of work, where we wish him every success.

LA PLATA.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

March 2nd.

A decree was issued to-day ordering that from the 1st July no scabby heep shall be admitted at the "tabladas." Any animal found scabby to be returned to the owner or consignee.

From the 1st January 1897 one scabby sheep shall be sufficient to cause the entire drove to be refused admittance at the tablada.

From the 1st July all Railway waggons must be disinfected before being used again for sheep.

The Rojas murderer has not yet been caught.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week opened nicely yesterday with lovely autumn weather, the Gold Eagle very stiff on his pins, no increase of the Yellow Jack scare, a "caso sospechoso" of cholera to keep the ball rolling, a fall of "tuppence" per stone in Argentine fat beeves at Deptford, less inclination amongst our North American cousins to press Spain by recognizing the Cubans as belligerents, although the fiery and haughty Dons are tearing up the Star-spangled Banner and dancing on it in the streets. The general impression is that this last flare-up, like all the others, will be "settled amicably". The local "ecos del dia" were insipid. The politicians are up to the roots of their wigs in devising strategems to secure the spoils of the coming elections. Cape Corrientes is now spoken of as the field for the manœuvres of the National Guards. It is by far the best site as yet suggested. The sea air and regular drill will make the lads as strong as horses.

A father yesterday accused the firemen on guard at the prison reserve in Calle 24 de Noviembre of having barbarously beaten his son aged 18. At 11 yesterday morning the boy was brought to his father's house in a common prison van, speechless and with severe bruises on his body. A doctor was called in but he died at 6.30. It is sincereiy to be hoped that Dr. Beazley will signalize his advent to power by thoroughly investigating this apparently disgraceful affair.

The Chief of Police question is settled General Campos goes out, and a decree, will be issued to-day naming Dr. Beazley in his place.

There are some new Justices of the Peace going to try their hands; Mr. Edward Healy in the 7th Section; Mr. Carlos Sidero in the 22nd, and Mr. Octavio Molina in the 23rd. We wish them all success and enough work to keep their livers in good order.

A telegram from the wrong side of the Andes says that the muddle is arranged, on the basis of "an imaginary line" in the Southern Andes; the removal of the St. Francis "hito", and arbitration about the Punta de Atacama. Our distinguished friend Dr. Morla Vicuña gets the credit of this arrangement. Barros Arana has got diplomatic lockjaw, so his mouth is shut.

We received the St. Andrews Gazette for March last night as we were going to bed it is a splendid number, fatter even than usual. The "London Letter" is very interesting. It relates how "Uncle Paul" Kruger's life was once saved by Dr. Jameson when the old chappie was very ill, and he swore eternal gratitude. The rest of the number is full of the most interesting matter of all kinds.

A most frightful double murder has been committed at Rojas. While seated in front of their houses with their families, Mr. Bernal, correspondent of the Tiempo, and Mr. Oyhanarte, editor of the Verdad of that place, were barbarously murdered, and a charming young girl, Miss Eliza Juarez, badly wounded. This is a most dreadful affair, and it is to be hoped that politics are not at the bottom of it.

We feel all right now. Our cellar is overflowing, but, as it is Lent, we are forced to strict fasting, and yesterday, our old friends Messrs. Arnot Leslie and Co., sent us a consignment of the greatest disinfectant in the world "Sanitas" for which they are the agents. The first doctors of the United Kingdom, where sanitary science is best understood, have pronounced "Sanitas" as a sovereign preventive of all infections diseases; so while yellow fever is with us, no prudent family should be without it. Its odour is as refreshing and agreeable as Ess Bouquet.

In the counting house of an Irishman the following notice is exhibited in a conspicuous place:—"Persons having no business in this office will please get it done as soon as possible and leave." In that of an Englishman: "When you wish to call upon a man of business do so during the hour of business, transact your business, and then go about your business."

Captain Barilari's officers and crews have made rapid progress in their artillery shooting. At target practice in half a gale of wind, and with a heavy sea on, the small barrels that were thrown overboard to serve as targets were hit one after the other and smashed up.

We see some soul-withering (at least for male humanity) rumours in the fashion papers that crinoline is to make its reappearance soon, and has already got in the thin end of the wedge in the shape of one narrow steel hoop at the bottom of the "jupe". The marriage rate will certainly fall away to nothing if this detestable and ungraceful fashion be re-introduced.

The rest of Frank Brown's circus troupe are expected in the Italian steamer Sirio. Amongst the artists is Miss Godfroy, a second Rosita de la Plata.

The La Plata mathematician who hit off the two last figures (29) of the big prize in the National Lottery last week has promised another prediction for the $200,000 prize in next Saturday's drawing: so don't buy your tickets readers till Sir Oracle speaks, which will be to-morrow or next day.

The Revd. Dr. Smith will preach on Sunday 15th inst at noon, at the Cabaña, district of Cañuelas.

What do you do to past away the time? Easy enough. I just give my pagaré to some one for sixty days, and the time passes quickly enough, I assure you.

The news from Spain yesterday was tremendous. The whole Peninsula is in a wild ferment against Uncle Sam, and preparations to go to war with him are being made. This is madness. Cuba is n't worth the fight, at least to Spain.

Thank heaven that Tremblie case is over. Since the day Farbos was cut up, the River Plate public have been sickened with it. The murderer and his head won't be long in parting company, as the French Government never delays long over these little affairs.

Our friends of the Danish Mutual Aid Society held their General Meeting on Sunday night, and the report and accounts were so satisfactory that they all went to bed perfectly happy. Mr. Jissen was elected President. Messrs Arnoldo Moen and Schack Directors, Mr. Baun Secretary and Mr. Ross Treasurer.

Another tremendously rich copper mine has turned up in Jujuy. It yields the enormous quantity of 80 per cent of pure ore, and arrangements have been made for shipping 1000 quintals to Europe as a sample. The day is not so very far distant—say when Mr. Barrow's Strawberry Railway is made—when there will be an Argentine mining boom in Capel Court that will surpass Barny Barnato's famous racket in Kaffirs, Rands, Beers and Hottentots.

Our Montevidean friends appear to be better hands at the spine-crookening and chest-narrowing "bike" than its vateries on this side of the river. Of the seven races run on the other side of Jordan, on Sunday five were won by Orientales and only two by Argentines.

The fall of the Argentine Gold Eagle has so unnerved his Paraguayan brother that the banks there have stopped discounting Argentine notes. This is a pity. Argentine notes are really very nice ones, especially when they are new and crisp.

There is little or no news, fashionable or unfashionable, in our Montevideo exchanges received yesterday. The popular dance there now is the "Bicicleta", a mixtum-gatherum of polka and galop in which the pace round the room is downright helter—skelter terrific, and no "roarers" need attempt it. Our guide, philosopher and friend the M. V. T. gives us a short but sharp lecture on the abomination of gambling, and seems still in innocent doubt as to whether we really broke the bank at Mar del Plata. Ask the croupier colleague. Our esteemed contemporary says that our excellent friend Mr. C. Catlin, Manager of the Pierce Artesian Well Company, announces that all the boring plant will shortly be removed, as he is leaving for Chili, and consequently those who require wells should lose no time in giving their orders.

Talk about good type-writers! Mr. John Hodsoll sent us round yesterday the most compact and simplest typewriter that we have seen since these useful articles have been invented. Our fingers have concocted thousands and thousands of lines over the other various writers, but we must confess that the "Munson" is one of the finest typewriters that has been seen or used in Buenos Aires.

We learn from our New York exchanges that Mr. Markham, who is recognized as the very highest authority on the Venezuelan muddle, after an independent investigation of the evidence furnished by the maps in the collection of the New York Geographical Society, agrees with Chief Justice Daly that the Venezuelan claim is baseless, and it is not easy to see how his arguments are to be set aside. The Spanish pretensions which the Venezuelans have inherited, appear "not to have been derived either from discovery or occupation, but from an imaginary title conferred by their interpretation of the Bull of Pope Alexander VI., as modified by the Convention of Tordesillas, dated June 7th 1494." This freakish assertion of authority by Borgia over the whole of the newly-discovered continent more than 400 years ago is the starting point of the Venezuelan demand. It was a violent stretch, even in those days of Papal power, against which the existence of the United States, and of the British Colonies they grew out of, was, and is, a practical protest. The "ipse dixit," however, of the Papal autocrat, in which he naturally favoured the country from which his family sprang, enabled Spain to write her name across fanciful maps of unexplored and unoccupied regions where no Spanish flag ever flew. It would appear that John Bull's case is by no means a weak one, and this, perhaps, induced Lord Salisbury to consent to arbitration.

The brave Belgians are in the mess now. They, as well as the Freuch, have been supplying arms to Menelik, and General Baratieri says he has the proofs in his hands. As a preliminary he has bundled a lot of foreigners, mostly King Leopold's subjects, out of Eritrea Colony. This selling of arms to the foes of a friendly state is by no means the ticket, but is looked on as "business". When the allied army captured Sebastopol in the fifties, what was the astonishment of the British troops to find not only arms and ammunition of English manufacture, but absolutely stamped with Her Majesty's broad arrow!! The mystery, we believe, was never cleared up, and was buried with all the other scandals of which "the army of lions led by asses" were the victims.

Here is a paragraph that will interest those who knew and kissed the hem of the robe of the "Divine Sarah" when she was here, and her admirers advised her to buy an estancia near the place where the Devil left his "poncho," and not even the Frenchmen in the country know where this Thespian estancia is:—"The divine Sarah seems to have discovered the secret of perpetual youth. "Yes," she said to an interviewer who called on her in New York the other day, "you needn't tell me that I look young. I know it. All Paris is quite furious with me about it. Women who are waiting for my downfall cannot forgive me my youth. They are enraged about it, but it is my mission in life to 'faire enrager les autres,' and I am quite happy. I am young because I work. I am never idle. If I stayed quietly in Paris as the Parisians wanted me to do some years ago, I should look at least fifty. Possibly I might be dead. I love travel, change of scene, incessant occupation, and the result is—I am young."

Ultimo Testimonio recibido

Señores Agar, Cross y Cia., Buenos Aires
Muy Señores mios
Con haber introducido en esta colonia su máquina retormada MacCormick y á mas que en el dia de la fecha para que sea mas completa con la nueva aplicación á lo misma máquina del Cutter Bar Frames, he recibido un perjuicio de regular consideracion y un beneficio que supera pero grandemente al perjuicio. Asi se lo manifesté verbalmente á su representante Sr. Jorge Winter. El perjuicio es que tengo muchas máquinas, segadoras de alfalfa y no sé que haré de ellas porque mis chacareros no quieren mas que MacCormick, y el beneficio es que teniendo alfalfares "sembrados espresamente con muchos graminios" todavia no habia encontrado máquina las cortara tan perfectamente como estas. Como en el año proximo cortaré mas de 2000 hectareas de alfalfa semilla y es alli donde se ven las buenas máquinas, les pediré algunas mas, segun venga el corte semilla, este año necesitaré dos. En un concurso, quisiera ver como se puede probar que haya maquina que supere á esta.

Gold Premium.

Monday, March 2nd 1896.
FIRST RING 200.50%
SECOND RING..... 201.60%

The gold market opened this morning in a threatening mood. Before Bolsa hours the "cambistas" or exchange-men got 206% premium from their customers. As the ring opened, however, the firm feeling vanished and a large supply of gold came upon the market. The news about the yellow fever in Belgrano was better and the market gave little importance to the scare.

This morning's telegrams from London announced that sales of Argentine securities continued very brisk at current market rates. The boom has been a godsend to the big banking houses, whose action was paralyzed for a long time by large amounts locked up in Argentines. The Barings, for instance, are doing a splendid business at present; they have moved off the wad at prices much above those fixed in the last balance-sheet, and we should not be surprised to see the great firm resume its old power and standing.

Four hundred thousand gold dollars changed hands for cash at the first ring; the premium opened at 202%, fell to 200%, and closed at 200⅛%. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the 15th, the premium closing at 201.70%. The premium closed at 207% for end of April, 211% for May, and 212% for end of June. The gold market closed weak this morning.

National Cedulas F closed at 83.80, La Plata Cedulas at 19.20, Spanish Bank shares at 110.50 and Catalinas at 4.90. Very little done.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—
$ 381,300 for cash at 302-301.50-301-300 50-300.50-80-50-30-20--50-70--50-40-50-80-78-60-50.

With the sharp rise in Argentine stocks and shares in the London market cables bring the news that some of the big holders who have held blocks of these securities have let go in a booming market, removing much of the squeeze and pressure that was caused by the lock-up of so much capital in paper that for years could not find a market. One of the effects of this London boom we watch here in our own market. The old firm of Samuel B. Hale and Company, which held such a large load of Argentine securities, has now been relieved by the rise in quotations and enabled to unload. We understand that the firm will now undergo some changes, and in the process Mr. Samuel Hale Pearson, grand-son of the founder of the firm, will take a leading interest.

Exchange ruled dull and a shade weaker to-day at
48 5|16-⅜d on London.
5.09 fcs. on France.
5.10 fos. on Belgium.
5.13 ⅛ mks. on Germany.
Paper money continues tight.
Paper bills are quoted 8 ¼% per annum.

Don Santiago B. Gahan was welcomed to-day on his return from a pleasant excursion to Mendoza and the Andes. He says that Dr. Cotton's Sanatorium is crowded and that you can now cross into Chile in carriage which is decidedly more comfortable than on mule back. Mr. Abel Rousselet was also welcomed on his arrival from Mar del Plata, where the Bristol is next to empty, the Grand Hotel fairly full, and the Royal well patronized. The latter has custom of its own, where the cuisine and cellar are the main features of the day's programme.

Telegrams from Rio report the financial situation going from bad to worse, and exchange on London tottering at 8⅜d. The rate in Valparaiso holds out at 17⅜d.

Circulars were handed round to-day, announcing the liquidation of the firm of Messrs. G. Behr and Co., though Mr. Behr will continue the business as consignee and produce broker for his sole account, taking over assets and liabilities of the extinct firm.

We were favored to-day by Mr. Vane Nicholls of the Port Works with a copy of The Colliery Engineer and Metal Miner a very interesting publication that we hold at the disposal of any of our readers desirous of perusing it. It is published in Scranton, Pa. U.S.A. and can be subscribed for either direct or through Mr. Nicholls.

The Fire-fiend got loose yesterday, the scene of his ravages being Messrs. Prandini, Bozzallo and Co's great cloth factory near the Puente Alsina. The fire broke out in the big central deposit, being noted by one of the hands about 3 p.m. The deposit covers an area of 25x85 metres and had no less than 100 sets of machines employed in the business. As there was no water nearer than the Riachuelo, a square away, it was some time before the Brigade could act on the offensive, but eventually the houses were got to work and the fire confined to the deposit in which it originated. The damages are calculated at $235,000, made up as follows: $100,000 plant, $100,000 materials, stock, etc. And $35,000 the building, the insurance covering $200,000 distributed amongst 8 or 10 Companies. Work was suspended at 5 a.m. on Sunday morning so that the fire did not break out till 10 hours subsequently. A tienda in Calle Buen Orden 949 was the next on the list, but did not give much trouble, an hour's work getting it under with $10,000 damages. The origin of the fire in both cases is still unknow.

Mr. Henry Enthoven reports having sold and delivered since the 1st January 1896 45034 casks of cement of the well-known brands Eagle, Puma and Parrot, which is certainly a sign of the progress in this line.

Mr. Blyth, who has been all over our wheat districts, was welcomed On'Change. his opinion about the wheat crop is that much reliance cannot be placed on what they say in Rosario, but in the South of this province, the crops promise to be splendid.

About half a million gold changed hands at the second ring in a rising market. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for delivery to-morrow: the premium opened at 200.70 %, rose to 202 %, and closed at 201.60 %. The report and balance-sheet of the Argentine steam Lighter Co. were handed round to-day, and shew the business to be in a very satisfactory state, as with only three steamers working the receipts exceeded the expenditure by £2,316 which, added to £3265 brought forward from previous year made £5582 out of which the board recommended a 10s. dividend absorbing £2,502, carrying forward £3178 to new account. The company lost one steamer the Hilda off Brazilian Coast, but she was fully insured, and the s.s Juanita, built by Messrs. Henderson and Co. of Glasgow to replace her, the new boat being already in activa work. The capital stands at £38,440, and property and assets at £57,675, the freights and towages for the year having amounted to £22,205. In the expenditure the principal items were wages, Provisions stores $7890, coals £25.89, Port Charges £3,860.

We see by our exchanges that the Liebig's Company has asked for judicial consent to raise money in the market for the purpose of extending its business, the board preferring to borrow at cheap rates on its good credit to issuing new shares which would carry high dividends. Like most R. Plate enterprises Liebig's has been a chapter of success, and the Company's legal representative, in urging the petition, pointed out that the dividends had averaged 15 per cent. that the reserve fund stood at £140,000, that there were no creditors, and that the shareholders were all of accord. The Court granted the application.

Another item of news we note in our exchanges is that Mr. B. J. Barnato, the great ex-Cape capitalist, has purchaser Sir Walter Gilbey's mansion at Hove. The price is not given.

The Minister of Finance has ordered a payment to the Public Credit Office of $195, 866⅔ to meet the last quarter's interest and amortization on the Internal Consolidated Debt, and $16,962 for the service of the Independence Warriors of Brazil Debt.

The Public Works Board has received two tenders for the erection of the Receptoria at Villa Constitucion: F. Grovello for $ 22,158 and M. S. Parera for $22,223. The Board advises the Government to accept the first.

The Procurador of the Treasury has recommended the Minister of the Interior to grant a patent of invention for the Basin Express system of taking vessels across a stretch of land. And he has recommended that a patent be given to Mr. Cortesi for preserving "grains." This will be a blessing to millions of people.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

The devil, not his satanic majesty but our ordinary printer's demon—played havoc with two important items in this column of our last issue, by suppressing the word gold in the price paid for the Toay camp sold by Messrs Juan Lean and Co. for account of the Murrietta estate. Mr. Richard Trotman, who had acted as broker in the business, promptly noticed the omission and as promptly posted up to our offices to make the correction, finding himself forestalled by Messrs Lean and Co., whilst in the market there was immense inquiry for Toay lands at $4,500 paper, and of course no such thing to be had. But the other lands in the Pampa to which we alluded are still open and the price only paper, so that there is a fine opening for a cheap and profitable investment.

But this was not the extent of our P. D's outrage on values and persons. He turned Mr. Edward Ackerley, our much esteemed neighbour, into a Dr. Jekyll, setting him forth as Mr. Alhuby. Mr. Ackerley is the consignee of the fine lot of champion bulls to arrive this week in the ss Hydarnes and which will be sold at Tattersall's. Only a P. D. could be capable of such atrocious mutilation.

Yesterday's list of sales is a fairly lengthy one, though there were no very important items to comment on:

Mr. Julio M. Pestaña sold:
Cordoba, corner of Bustamante, with old building, $10,050; buyer, Mr. Deante.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

A "Blauer Montag" was more or less the aspect in all produce circles. Business was slack and showed even further signs of dullness. Cereals still hold trump cards, but find few adversaries to compete with. The "consumo" holds the predominant position, and before the export makes them budge a certain lapse of time will have to pass. Wheat has reached the highest step of the ladder, leaving exporters and other "interesados" in the vocative case: the laugh at this is all on the side of the millers, who although very quiet about their own transactions are quite willing to joke at others' expencse. Maize is looked for, but prices look weak, this article is at present the only consolation for exporters the local "consumo" having sufficient on hand and does not require to compete with foreign markets. A few parcels were let go at 3.20, some large transactions are still on hand for the next few days, nothing decided is known about them. The arrivals in both wheat and maize are very small, this fact naturally increases both competition and prices.

Linseed is creeping slowly ahead, but no matter how slow it advances, it is gaining ground on other produce. The small parcels that arrive here are at once sold at 9.50, this price reigns firm with a rising tendency.

A general "decadence" was noticed in the wool markets. The telegrams from Antwerp quote Arg. wool at 4.32 ½ frcs. Whereas in Roubaix and other manufactorying centres the prices are well upheld. To-morrow the Australian wool auctions open in London, from what it is reported prices will open slack however this is rather a broad assertion at present as none knows how the competition will turn out. The last telegrams from Europe state that the wools from the "pasto fuerte" districts such as Pampa Central, Bahia Blanca and Colorado have given very bad results after washing, the difference being more or less from 4 to 5%.

The sales this morning were only 250,000 kilos at rather slack prices. Messrs Devoto, Balbiani and Co. received in the Central 520 bags wool from Entre Rios and 800 bundles from the Province of B. Aires. The s s Vaca has just arrived from Patagones with a large cargo of produce, 50,000 kilos of which are consigned to Messrs Devoto, Balbiani and Co.

A fall of 40 cents was noticed this morning in wheat. The demand was stiff, but exporters showed their force on the rates and have commenced a strong battle against local "consumo"; the latter, however, can afford to pay fancy prices, to the utter dismay of other competitors. Special Barletta parcels are selling to-day at 8.20, higher prices have been paid, but the transactions are private. Telegrams from London report wheat firm, but slack in operations, the nominal rate being 25 and 3 pence. In Antwerp the grain is selling at 14¾ francs. Maize does not seem to be as stiff as usual, operations were strong, but prices showed a slight decline, this is due greatly to exporters sending the bought parcels to deposit. Linseed is to the fore, little change in the prices, good parcels find easy outlet at pretty fair prices, but the other qualities are quoted at insignificant prices. The latest from Antwerp reports linseed at 19¾ francs and in London at 30 and 3 pence.

Messrs. Devoto Balbiani and Co. give the following interesting items on the situation of the produce markets during the past week. According to their "revista" the "derrumbe" in the gold premium has neutralized the effects of the favorable news from the exterior. To keep business running in wool, consignatarios have been obliged to make large concessions in their transactions; where these came in mostly were in "pasto fuerte" wools which seem to have declined greatly in foreign appreciation. The different classes of wool may be said to be on a turn table; cross wools, which for some time have commanded the general attention, suffered a severe change in last week's operations. The French element seems to pull the reins in wool courses. The orders from the Northern part of France are far ahead of the demands from other quarters. Fine wool stands out as clear as the early "lucero" leaving other qualities completely in the shade. Lincoln and mezcla wools have suffered from the restriction put on the artistas' limits. What has stepped out a little are cross and mezcla lambs wool: the parcels which have long silky wool are at once picked up. Entre Rios and Corrientes wools are attracting much attention, not for their quality, but on account of the large sales made in the parcels from those districts. Patagones, Choel-Choel, Rio Negro and Colorado wools are arriving so fast that every day sales are reported, the prices however, reflect the fall of the Gold Eagle immensely.

Prices ran as follows; cross lincoln from 10 to 10.50, middling from 9.50 to 9.80, with seed from 8 to 8.50, the West and North wools are quoted from 6.50 to 8 dollars. Very few sales were reported in "mezclas", the current prices for the superior qualities from 8 to 8.70, inferior at 6.00. Rambouillet wools, of clean silky appearance were eagerly picked up at 9.00, 9.30 and even 9.50; the best parcels come from the South. Wools from other quarters offer little to comment on, prices are more or less the same, the tendeney being more for a fall than anything else.

Sheepskins "muy flojos", no wonder, no article in the market is more susceptible to the gold fluctuations than sheepskins. Several large sales were effected by Messrs. Devoto Balbiani and Co. during the week, but this could not move the depression which hangs over the operators. If sheepskins are in a bad boat so are cowhides, the rush made by this article met with a violent rebuff from the fall in gold. The "matadero" from the South are again down at 9 and 9.50 for specials, the prices for 'consumo' have fallen 20 cents. Very little was done in other produce, such as horse hair, potro hides, etc.

The Rosario markets weak all round. The decline in gold seems to interest people more than produce prices. Cereals have been roughly neglected lately notwithstanding the firmness in Europe and Buenos Aires. The news that the crops will not be as large as in past years has thrown a certain dejection on the usual bright countenances of cereal men. Extra fine parcels were picked up on Saturday at 7.15 and 7·20, but these transactions are in the hands of the local millers, the total despatched in which was about 11000 quintals, prices running from 6.80 to 7.15.

Maize sleeps. Linseed is not much better, the only operation reported was 2.000 quintals at 9.00, the market still holds out for a rise, this must soon be the case, as the news from the foreign markets states that a slight reaction has taken place in the article.
